Ludmila is a collaborating attorney-at-law at Urban & Hejduk with nearly seven years of experience in a leading Czech law firm and three years of experience in the legal department of a major international company. She provides comprehensive legal advice to Czech and foreign clients, including Russian-speaking clientele, and also provides assistance to Czech and other clients doing business in CIS countries. Ludmila focuses mainly on corporate law and commercial obligations, civil law, real estate law, and dispute resolution. She has participated in dozens of major acquisition projects and legal due diligence in the area of corporate law and real estate law, including assistance in setting up joint ventures. Ludmila also prepares legal opinions and memoranda in these areas. In addition, she assists clients in preparing all corporate documentation, including assistance in establishing companies and with preparation of various types of contracts. Ludmila has also participated in representing clients before the courts or in out-of-court settlements in a number of complicated cases. Last but not least, Ludmila is engaged in publishing activities relating to the above topics.
